

Babar Bio

Babar has over two decades of experience in writing, editing, and managing a variety of content for a variety of audiences across multiple platforms. This includes 10+ years of writing and editing technical content in consulting engineering and professional services environment, and 10 years of writing, editing, and proofreading content for television news and advertising magazines in Canada and abroad. Broadcast journalism education with distinction and several achievement awards backed with immaculate writing style have excelled Babar at every role he has performed. Moreover, with writing prowess of an editor, researching skills of a journalist, and demonstrated experience in creative, technical, and research-oriented writing, Babar has written hundreds of proposals in the fields of civil and electrical engineering as well as in the transit industry.